On January 1, 2017 revisions were published to CSA 6.19, Residential Carbon Monoxide Alarming Devices.

This Letter announces a forthcoming Industry File Review for CSA 6.19-17 with an Effective Date of May 28, 2021. New and/or revised requirements have been developed that may be applicable to your product(s).

ULC published the First Edition of CAN/ULC-S588, the Standard for Gas and Vapour Detectors and Sensors, Including Accessories in April, 2017. Previously, both CO Alarms and CO Detectors were evaluated to CSA 6.19-01. UL/ULC will not re-certify existing Listed CO Detectors to CSA 6.19-17. Those certifications will be withdrawn on the effective date of May 28, 2021. Manufacturers interested in maintaining certification for their CO Detectors will need to submit their products for evaluation to CAN/ULC-S588 prior to the CSA 6.19-17 effective date.
